Investment Objective

To provide shareholders with a balanced portfolio of investments in the Asia Pacific region designed to outperform the MSCI Index[†].

[†] MSCI AC Asia Pacific Free Index (£)

Strategies

- Use an active multi-manager approach to add value and diversify risk.
- Manage the fund for growth predominantly through capital return.
- Employ share buy-backs when the Company's shares are standing at a substantial discount to their net asset value.
- Deploy tactical gearing giving discretion to the Investment Managers to hold up to 10% of the portfolio in cash or borrow up to 10%.
- Distribute as much income as may be prudent on an annual basis to shareholders.
- Control costs and expenses to maintain a total expense ratio of less than 1%.

Chairman's Statement

Gillian Nott

In my first annual report earlier this year I noted that for the first time in a number of years the Company's net asset value ("NAV") had outperformed its benchmark. I am very pleased to report that this outperformance has continued in the first six months to 31 July 2007, with an NAV total return of 9.0% (source: AIC MIS Services Ltd) for the period. However when this figure is adjusted for the impact of the payment of last year's dividend, the underlying total return for the period was 8.3% versus a total return of 8.0% for the MSCI AC Asia Pacific Free Index in sterling terms. Over the six months the Aberdeen portfolio returned 7.1% whilst the Nomura portfolio returned 10.2%.

Although these numbers suggest a healthy return from markets in the region over the six months, they mask periods of significant volatility, primarily in February when, on average, Asia Pacific markets fell by around 5%. In addition, there was a very diverse spread of market returns with China, Korea and Thailand all rising by more than 30% in sterling terms over the six months whilst the largest market in the area, Japan, fell by nearly 2%, again, in sterling terms.

Aberdeen's underperformance over the period was due to poor stock selection, primarily in Japan and South Korea. This was partially offset by being very underweight in the poorly performing Japanese market. Nomura also benefited from being underweight in Japan, and, in their case, Taiwan and from being overweight in China. Stock selection outside Japan was also strong. Since these managers were appointed Aberdeen have outperformed the benchmark by 0.9% and Nomura by 2.6%.

During the six months the Company bought back 2,243,472 shares representing 3.1% of the share capital which enhanced the NAV by 0.3%. This represents a slower underlying rate of buy-backs than in the previous year.

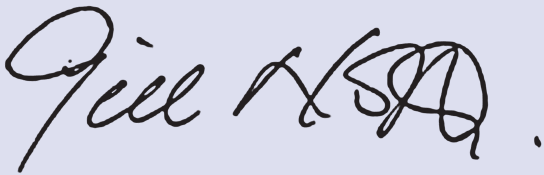

I am delighted to welcome Alan Barber to the Board and as Chairman of the Audit Committee. As a former partner of the international accounting firm KPMG, he brings a considerable breadth of experience to the Board and the Audit Committee, as well as experience of the Japanese market.

To mark your Company's 100th anniversary in January this year, we commissioned John Newlands to write a history of the Company and this is enclosed with your half year report. This is a fascinating read and, given the many financial storms in the past which your Company has weathered, it also helps to put into context the current market perturbation. For example, a past chairman noted that an investment of £1,000 in 1951 would have been worth almost five times that amount a decade later, that is despite the turbulence caused by the Suez crisis in the middle of that period.

The recent market falls were triggered by problems in the US sub-prime lending market. This has caused investors across the world to re-price risk, even when markets concerned, as in the case of Asia Pacific, are not directly affected by the US sub-prime lending problems. As a result, the market momentum caused by some investors chasing returns without due regard for risk has started to dissipate. Whilst this turbulence may continue for a while, we still believe that over the longer term equities will continue to outperform other asset classes, and that the Pacific region in particular has potential for real growth.

3 Management fee and performance-related management fee

On 27 May 2005, your Board appointed Witan as Executive Manager and Aberdeen and Nomura as the new Investment Managers. Each of the Investment Managers is entitled to a base management fee, calculated according to the value of the assets under their management, and a performance fee. The performance fee is calculated according to investment performance over a three year rolling period and is subject to a cap. Each Management Agreement can be terminated at one month's notice. The base management fees range from 0.2% to 0.25% per annum and the performance fees range from 10% to 15% per annum of the relevant outperformance.

The provisions included in the Income Statement at 31 July 2007, are calculated based on the performance of each Investment Manager relative to the benchmark index. Each provision assumes that both the benchmark and each Investment Manager's assets under management remain unchanged to 31 May 2008, being the date the third performance period ends.

No interim dividend payment will be made (six months to 31 July 2006: nil; year to 31 January 2007: final of 1.50p per share).
