Investment Objective

To provide shareholders with a balanced portfolio of investments in the Asia Pacific region designed to outperform the MSCI Index[†].

[†] MSCI AC Asia Pacific Free Index (£)

Strategies

- Use an active multi-manager approach to add value and diversify risk.
- Manage the fund for growth predominantly through capital return.
- Employ share buy backs when the Company's shares are standing at a substantial discount to their net asset value.
- Deploy tactical gearing giving discretion to the Investment Managers to hold up to 10% of the portfolio in cash or borrow up to 10%.
- Distribute as much income as may be prudent on an annual basis to shareholders.
- Control costs and expenses to maintain a total expense ratio of less than 1%.

Chairman's Statement

Gillian Nott

The six months under review have been an extremely volatile and testing period for Asian markets. Over the period the MSCI AC Asia Pacific Free Index returned -6.1%. Of the markets in which your Company is invested, returns ranged from +4.7% in the case of Singapore to -26.7% in India (one of last year's top performers). By contrast, last year's worst performer, Japan, returned a relatively respectable -4.0%.

Against this difficult background the Company's share price returned -5.1%, with dividends reinvested, and the net asset value ("NAV") total return was -6.6% (source: AIC Services Ltd). Whilst these are negative numbers, in the context of the market background it is a reasonable outcome.

Underlying this return the Aberdeen portfolio returned -5.3% and the Nomura portfolio returned -6.2% during the six months under review. Aberdeen's out-performance was mainly due to stock selection in Singapore and India. Throughout the volatility, Aberdeen has made few changes to the portfolio as they consider their investments to be innately conservative. Aberdeen remains very underweight in Japan but is overweight in the relatively defensive Singapore stock market. Nomura's slight underperformance was primarily due to stock selection in India. During the six months ended 31 July 2008, Nomura has increased their Japanese weighting, reducing the overall underweight position to the benchmark as they see Japan as a more defensive market. Exposure to Australia was reduced, where financial holdings were sold in response to ongoing concerns over global credit markets, Nomura has, however, maintained a significant exposure to the resource sector which provided good returns. The running costs of the Company, including tax, accounted for the difference between the Investment Managers' underlying performance and the final NAV change.

During the six months the Company bought back 718,883 shares representing 1.1% of the share capital which enhanced the NAV by 0.1%. It is the Board's policy to continue to manage the discount through share buy backs. We have always applied this policy flexibly. We will continue to do so.

In these difficult market conditions it is impossible to predict how long the problems we are facing in global financial markets will take to solve. It is, however, likely that the impact from the slowdown in global growth and high inflation in the region will continue to dominate market sentiment for a while and there is also a continued risk of further volatility in equity markets. Both our Investment Managers are well placed to ride out the storm as they have a relatively conservative approach to investment, focussing largely on stable companies with strong balance sheets and promising long term futures. This should stand the Company's portfolio in good stead in these markets particularly as, with many market benchmarks back to levels last seen a year ago, our Investment Managers are starting to see interesting buying opportunities.

3 Management fee and performance-related management fee

On 27 May 2005, your Board appointed Witan as Executive Manager and Aberdeen and Nomura as the Investment Managers. Each of the Investment Managers is entitled to a base management fee, calculated according to the value of the assets under their management, and a performance fee. The performance fee is calculated according to investment performance over a three year rolling period and is subject to a cap. Each Management Agreement can be terminated at one month's notice. The base management fees range from 0.2% to 0.25% per annum and the performance fees range from 10% to 15% per annum of the relevant outperformance.

The provisions included in the Income Statement at 31 July 2008, are calculated based on the performance of each Investment Manager relative to the benchmark index. Each provision assumes that both the benchmark and each Investment Manager's assets under management remain unchanged to 31 May 2009, being the date the performance period ends.

4 Dividends per ordinary share

Private Client Stockbrokers

If you have a lump sum to invest you may want to contact a private client stockbroker. They can manage your entire portfolio of shares and will advise you on your investments. If you would like to find a private client stockbroker please visit the Association of Private Client Stockbrokers and Investment Managers at www.apcims.co.uk.

Online Stockbroking Services

In addition to the Witan Wealthbuilder service there are a number of real time execution only stockbroker services which allow you to trade online, manage a portfolio and buy UK listed shares. Many such websites ask for a stock exchange code which for Witan Pacific is WPC.

Potential investors are reminded that the value of investments and the income from them may go down as well as up and investors may not get back the amount originally invested. Tax benefits may change if the law changes and their value will depend upon individual circumstances.
